

Development, Data & DevOps Professionals

With the market being candidate led across Development, Data and Devops – securing the right candidate for your company and team is extremely hard. The challenge to even just have a conversation with somebody that is relevant, almost feels close to impossible.

This also means that the hiring plans you have in the coming months, probably needs to take effect now to have the candidate start when you need them.

The focus of Shift F5 is to bring you candidates that focus on the company culture, projects & the direction of the business – appose to just an increase in salary.
